

ANGSTERS TRIAL HAS BEEN DELAYED

The trial of John Garabaldi, of the alleged attack on a woman of San Mateo, which was to have taken place in the superior court here yesterday, was postponed until Monday, when a certificate signed by a physician declaring that Garabaldi was suffering from pneumonia, was presented.

Garabaldi, who is one of six men arrested and held for trial on the charges of Mrs. Emma Skellenger of San Francisco, who claimed that the man had attacked and raped her on the beach, was held in the county jail. The other five men had been tried on charges of robbery in the first court but the trial on the robbery charge, which was held on Monday, was postponed until Tuesday.

On Tuesday, Arthur Crab, who is the driver of the car which picked Mrs. Skellenger up at her home, was held in the county jail. The trial on the robbery charge, which was held on Monday, was postponed until Tuesday.

Local Composer Writes Operetta

Otis M. Carrington, musical instructor and well-known composer, has added to his long list of operetta successes this week with the completion of a new school operetta, "A Bit of Blarney," said by those who have had an opportunity of hearing the parts to be the best he has so far produced. The local man is the composer of the well-known "Myers & Carrington" operetta which have become favorites with high schools throughout the country and have been produced in foreign lands.

Carrington's first operetta success, "Windmills of Holland," was first produced by the local high school a number of years ago and has since enjoyed a large measure of popularity. It was soon followed by a number of others, including "The Torreadors," "Isle of Chance," "Pioneer's Pajamas," "Love Pirates of Hawaii," and others, and in a "Pioneer's Window" for the younger children. Each of the Myers & Carrington operettas has been given its initial showing here and each has been a great success. Those who have enjoyed these productions in the past are now looking forward to the first production of the latest of the Myers & Carrington hits, "A Bit of Blarney."

THE MASONIC CHOIR WILL SING HERE

A concert by soloists, assisted by the Grand Masonic Choir is going to be given on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the High School auditorium for the purpose of raising funds for the Santa Barbara relief. Not only was this city very severely hit by a great earthquake three months ago, but the opinion is largely prevailing that no help or money is needed in Santa Barbara, and that it can easily emerge from its predicament a more beautiful flower than before. Unfortunately, however, it was not the wealthy residents who were suffering from the earthquake, but the business district downtown, where dealers and merchants lost their houses and stores, and with practically no earthquake insurance were made poor in a few minutes. These people are suffering the hardest and many many cases are of heart and suffering has been felt and relief means to get a new start in their business has not been coming forth sufficiently, owing, partly to misrepresentation or concealing of facts, as soon as news of the terrible earthquake was flashed through the country.

It is therefore not out of place to ask Redwood City for a hearty support of the concert, which local soloists and the Grand Masonic Choir are offering to the public, assuring the latter of a good treat while the proceeds will be used to help out in the stricken city of Santa Barbara.

Every cent taken in for this concert will be added to the Relief Fund, because all expenses for the concert will be paid by private funds and every performer is gladly giving time and effort free of charge to help enter-tain.

Otis M. Carrington, besides leading the Grand Masonic Choir, will sing a solo; there will be songs by Miss Louise K. Brown and Miss Dorothy Bresse. Father C. E. Kennedy will play his violin. Prof. Richardson and Rev. A. C. Clay will play a duet on the piano. Mr. A. Heinemann, the new music instructor at the high school and a professional musician, will play the French horn and a flute solo, and Mr. Wedge of the English department of the high school will address the audience in a short talk of welcome and appreciation.

The admission will be 50 c for adults and 25 c for students and it is hoped that good amount can be forwarded to Santa Barbara, which during the past few days has been suffering from the earthquake.

CALAVARAS WATER IN CRYSTAL SPRINGS

Calaveras water is now flowing into the Crystal Springs lakes at the rate of 7,000,000 gallons a day, according to San Francisco engineers, who state that this is about one fourth of the amount which will be delivered with the completion of the Hetch Hetchy system's Dumbarton crossing. The delivery of water through the new pipeline in the hills here began last Saturday.

The water comes from Calaveras reservoir to a point near the bay, crossing through the aqueduct of the Spring Valley Company, whence it flows into the Crystal Springs lakes through the 20-mile pipe line recently constructed by the city of San Francisco, and through the Pulgas tunnel.

At the present rate of water delivery, the city is earning $80,000 a year, according to Chief Assistant City Engineer Nelson A. Eckart. When the full use of the pipeline is made available this winter the income will be $250,000 a year, and the water supply of the city augmented to 24,000,000 to 32,000,000 gallons a day. This will increase the present capacity of the water system approximately 50 per cent, and the bringing into the system of the Calaveras reservoir increases the storage capacity nearly 100 per cent.

San Francisco's last August used $42,500,000 gallons of water daily, an increase of $3,500,000 gallons over August of 1924. According to Eckart the recent construction will take care of the city's increased needs for the next six years, when the water resources of the Hetch Hetchy system are expected to be made available.

Hetch Hetchy will supply about 45,000,000 gallons a day under the high pressure, the amount of water will flow unimpeded through the present pipe lines at Dumbarton to Crystal Springs lakes. Under the present arrangement pumping is necessary.

The Dumbarton bay crossing and the Pulgas tunnel work has cost about $6,000,000, the twenty miles of 60-inch pipe line, costing alone $2,250,000 and taking 16,000 tons of steel. It has been more than a year and a half in the building. An electric-drive pumping plant is used now to elevate the water to Crystal Springs lake, a height of 230 feet.

It was pointed out by Eckart this week that the water supply of the city of San Francisco, 42,500,000 gallons at this time, is less than 10 per cent of the water that goes through the Moccasin Creek power plant every twenty-four hours, that being estimated at between 500,000,000 and 590,000,000 gallons.

Work on the water crossing at Dumbarton straight is being rushed and will be completed by December according to present estimates.

Man Arrested on Statutory Charge

Charged with having made a criminal attack on a sixteen-year-old girl, William Sepulveda, recently paroled from San Quentin, where he was sent for a similar offense, was arrested Thursday and is now being held in the county jail. Sepulveda faces charges of a girl, an inmate of the San Mateo county detention home.

Charges were placed against Sepulveda by the father of the girl, after a lengthy questioning before District Attorney Swart. Sepulveda was placed under arrest by Chief of Police Collins and Officer Stanley Woods. He will face trial on a charge of rape.

SEEK HONOR FOR COUNTY PIONEER

Some action toward perpetuating the memory of the late S. M. Mezes of this city will probably be taken by the board of supervisors at their next meeting. At the meeting of the board last Monday a letter was received from Maurice Harrison of the law firm of Dunne, Brobeck and Harrison of San Francisco, representing Mrs. Carmelita Wynne, daughter of S. M. Mezes, a pioneer of this city. Harrison recalled to the board the important part which Mezes had played in the early history of this county, and asked that some memorial be erected to his memory. Mezes was one of the earliest settlers in this county, or rather what is now this county, as it was at that time a portion of San Francisco county. Mezes was owner together with the Arguello family of the Pulgas ranch, a tract of about thirty-five square miles extending north from San Francisco creek almost to where San Mateo is now this tract was one of the original Spanish grants and was considered the most valuable grant in this part of the state. The ownership of this grant was confirmed by the American courts in 1853.

In 1854 Mezes employed W. W. Dwyer to lay out and plant a town on a portion of the Pulgas ranch. This town was on the site of the little Mexican settlement known as Embarcadero, and later became Redwood City. The town following the survey was for a number of years known as Mezesville, and deeds to property in the old part of town still refer to the records of Mezesville.

While the proprietor of this property Mezes deeded the block where the courthouse now stands to the county for that use. The courthouse was erected on this land in 1858. This courthouse formed not only the seat of government, but was a general meeting place. It was here that the first fire company in the county, Redwood No. 1, was organized in 1861. The Order of the Masons met here to organize in 1863 and for some time used the building as their meeting hall. It was also used by traveling preachers as a meeting house before the establishment here of any church, and when the congregational church was established here in 1863, the courthouse was used as the meeting place and services were held there until the original church building was completed.

The land occupied by the old jail, now the county clinic, was also a gift to the county by S. M. Mezes. In view of the liberality of the pioneer and his important part in the history of the county, it is likely that the supervisors will see fit to comply with the request of Mrs. Wynne, Harrison and Mrs. Wynne will be here for the next meeting of the board of supervisors and will address them in the matter.

SUPERVISORS TO REPAIR HIGHWAY THROUGH TOWN

Following a discussion with Mayor Henry Beger of Redwood City concerning the best methods of improving the highway through town, the board of supervisors last Monday voted to have the section of the highway from Vera avenue to James street resurfaced. The remainder will be repaired and strips along each side a foot or more in width will be removed and new asphalt put in place to make a good joint with the cement shoulders which have just been placed.

It was the original intention of the supervisors to have laid a new coat of asphalt clear across the highway on top of the present surface. When the shoulders were high, however, it was found that they were even in most places with the present surface of the highway. It was under these circumstances thought inadvisable to lay a new coat of asphalt over the present surface, as it would mean either raising the crown of the street, which would, it was said, make the street dangerous when wet; or laying asphalt clear across the street including the shoulders. The latter plan was not favored, as the shoulders were in the east, and the plan in this section. The remainder will be put into good shape and a good joint made with the asphalt on the shoulders. The board of supervisors last Monday expressed its regrets that the conditions were not such that he could carry out his intention of resurfacing this piece of road.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH HOLDS RECEPTION

A reception to Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Carrie, who have recently returned from an extended tour in the east, was given by the members of the Redwood City church, which was given Wednesday evening by the members of the Congregational church. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and an interesting program was given.

The program consisted of addresses by Roy W. Cloud, city superintendent of schools, and A. C. Argo, principal of the high school. Mrs. Philip Larmon and Mrs. Phillip Forsythe sang a number of duets. Miss Dorothy Bresse sang several solos. Prof. Richardson gave an organ recital, and C. M. Dossage gave a recitation from James Whitcomb Riley in his usual, splendid manner. Refreshments were served in the church parlors.

The committee responsible for the success of the affair were as follows: Mrs. Ruby Blomquist and Mrs. C. G. Uhlenberg; decorations, Mrs. Franklin Swart; program, Mrs. Eugene Prafflin; social, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pipkin, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Prafflin; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rider, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Groom.

WILLIAM WARREN DIES

Following shortly upon an attack of apoplexy with which he was stricken at his ranch at Woodside, death came to William Warren on this city Monday afternoon at the Pulgas sanitarium. The man had left his home in the morning in apparent good health and was stricken suddenly while working on his property at Woodside.

Dr. Herbert Clattenburg of this city was immediately summoned and he took the man to the hospital. Here he was attended for only a few hours when he passed away. The cause of death is said to have been a cerebral hemorrhage.

The deceased was a native of Canada and 54 years of age. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Warren and by four children, Lorna, George, Frank and William Warren.

The Warrens came to Redwood City a number of years ago from Menlo Park and engaged in the liquor business on Broadway. Later Mr. Warren disposed of this store and started the Redwood City soda works on the highway, which he sold recently. Since that time he has been engaged in raising ducks at Woodside.

Funeral services were held Wednesday from the late home of the deceased at 318 Marshall street. The services were under the direction of Layne & Tinney and were conducted by the local Aerie of Eagles. Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery in Menlo Park.

OLD LANDMARK TO FIND NEW SITE

Archibald & Sons, the local house movers, have the contract to move the old Albert Hanson home, one of the landmarks of Redwood City, on Main street. The old building around which clusters many memories of other days, will find a resting place on a lot close to the Pratt-Lowe Preserving Company on the highway, a relative of the imposing structure was one of the show places of Redwood City, with its surrounding lawns and matchless flower beds.

James Hill, long since passed on to that other and better land, occupied the property for many years. He is also having a cabin built for himself at La Honda. He is a nephew of Mrs. N. T. Messer.

Woodside will no longer take rank as a boat building center. Charles T. Bradley has sold his resort at Lake Tahoe and no longer will he build a boat each winter for the use of his summer guests.

The Woodside road saw two accidents on Sunday last. First a Buick sedan, property of the Howard Automobile Co. of San Francisco, disputed the right of way with an oil truck on the grade with serious consequences to the sedan. During the evening of the same day an irresponsible driver suddenly cut out of a line of machines headed for Redwood City to bring about a head-on with the Woodside bus in charge of A. A. Hesford. Mr. Hesford's car is being completely rebuilt and no one is expected to be seriously hurt.

The Sequoia High School has put a larger bus on the Woodside run, adding greatly to the comfort to those pupils who use that means of reaching the school.

An election was held at the Woodside school on Wednesday to determine who should have the honor of being the local news for the Sequoia Times. Susan Silva and Rupert Bradley were elected. Miss Pansy Abbott visited the school on Friday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. L. Ross, Jr., have bidden a number of their Woodside friends to their newly completed dancing pavilion for Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Agnew have returned to San Francisco.

Mrs. William Dimond entertained Miss May Huddart, Miss Louise Mahon and the members of the church choir at her place on Friday.

Rev. Benjamin St. John has returned from his trip and will fill the pulpit on Sunday.

There was one plague that Moses forgot to call down upon the Egyptian task-masters. From that plague Woodside has been suffering all the summer. Having consumed all the leaves of the white oak trees, the worms have invaded the houses in search for further sustenance, and many of us have been brought into closer association with worms that we had ever anticipated.

Jerry Granger pleaded not guilty in the justice court yesterday to a charge of reckless driving and the case was set for trial for Saturday, September 26. Two weeks ago Granger is said to have run over and knocked down two boys, Starleigh Thomas and George Aabel of Menlo Park. The boys were severely injured and the bicycle they were riding was demolished.

WOODSIDE NOTES

William Byrne and wife spent a part of last week at the State Fair at Sacramento. Mr. Byrne is a great lover of horses and was delighted at the showing made by the Roth stable.

Lucius Morse was a visitor in Woodside on Wednesday. Many a radio set in the neighborhood has missed the skillful touch of his hands in the year since he left. He is located in San Mateo, where he is in the business of manufacturing radio receiving sets.

Oliver Dibble, Jr., is building a home by the property formerly occupied by the Morse brothers. Mr. Dibble is also having a cabin built for himself at La Honda. He is a nephew of Mrs. N. T. Messer.

Woodside will no longer take rank as a boat building center. Charles T. Bradley has sold his resort at Lake Tahoe and no longer will he build a boat each winter for the use of his summer guests.

REV. HARRY OWEN RETURNED TO CHURCH

Rev. Harry Owen, for the past two years pastor of the Redwood City Methodist Episcopal church, who was attending conference of the Methodist churches in Stockton last week, has been returned for another year as pastor of the local church. The reappointment was pleasing news to the members of the local church, where he has made himself very popular during his ministry. Rev. Owen has taken a leading part in the campaign for building a new church which is now nearing completion in the Highlands.

PLAN ORGANIZATION OF GUARD UNIT HERE

The mustering out of Company G, California National Guard at Palo Alto, and the reorganization of the company here was recommended by Adjutant General R. E. Mittelstaedt this week.

THE POWER OF MONEY!

The meeting Tuesday was under the chairmanship of E. B. Hinman, past president of the club, and president of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce. Hinman also stressed the need of giving more consideration to the constitution and suggested that each member of the club learn the American's creed.

Rev. C. E. Kennedy, district trustee of the Redwood City club, spoke of the need of aid for those who suffered in the Santa Barbara earthquake. Father Kennedy told of the action taken by other clubs in this matter and asked that each member give a donation for this cause.

H. De Young returned last week from an extended visit with relatives in Round Valley, Mendocino county, and he brought back samples of the famous barrel peas that took the first prize at the State Fair this year.

THE CONSTITUTION

THE Constitution of the United States of America was completed by its makers one hundred thirty eight years ago, Thursday. Many discussions and a number of compromises were necessary during the three months that the constitution was in the making. Even after the framers had done their work only 31 of the 55 members of the Constitutional Convention were willing to sign their names as makers of the greatest law giving document in the history of the world.

Benjamin Franklin was the oldest and Alexander Hamilton, the youngest member of the convention. These two men with George Washington and James Madison were largely responsible for the ratification and final adoption of the fundamental law of our land.

The Constitution consisted of a preamble and seven articles when adopted, and during the hundred thirty eight years there have been only 19 amendments or changes.

It seems hardly credible that fifty men of over a hundred years ago would have had the clarity of vision sufficient to take care of the destiny of a great and growing nation. The elasticity of certain of the sections, however, has permitted our executive and legislative departments to carry on their work so that every need that has arisen has been cared for.

Under the Constitution and its amendments we have become the greatest nation of the world. This is proof positive that the Constitution makers were working not only for themselves but for posterity. They knew that the government as it existed was not good. They foresaw dangers ahead but like the patriots they were, they sacrificed personal comfort and ease and built for us the law upon which our ship of state could be guided wisely and well.

We certainly owe a debt of gratitude to the men who made and put our Constitution into operation.

TO TELL THE WORLD—SIGNS

BECAUSE of the big celebration in San Francisco last week, thousands of visitors from other parts of the state and from other states passed through Redwood City on their way to the big town. Many of these visitors had friends here whom they wanted to visit on their way to San Francisco. Consequently there were probably more people looking for Redwood City than ever before.

This fact called to our attention that Redwood City offers very little help to the stranger who is looking for our town. If he happens to miss the little yellow diamond signs at the town limits he may pass right through our town without knowing he is here. In fact several visitors here last week from without the state, stated that they did not know that they were in Redwood City until they had gone beyond it and had to turn back.

A large and prominent sign on each entrance to the town would be of great help to the visitor and would be a good advertisement to the town as well. It is particularly needed on the highway entrances, as this road does not pass through the business district, and also as it carries the greater part of the travel.

SHURTLEFF HONORED

A distinct honor was done to our friend Judge Charles A. Shurtleff of Menlo Park last week at Lake Tahoe when he was selected president of the Bar Association of California.

Judge Shurtleff is an attorney of great ability and experience. He has served as a member of the Supreme court of California and has been connected with judicial affairs which have put him in the forefront of this state's legal affairs.

The State Bar Association looks after the general policy which must be maintained. It also sees that a high professional standard is followed and has the power to recommend that any member shall be disbarred who does not live up to the policy and standards which have been set.

As president of the Association we know that Judge Shurtleff will leave a record that succeeding presiding officers will find it hard to equal.

If you are busy being kind
Before you knew it you would find—
You'd soon forget to think 'twas true
That someone was unkind to you.

"We ought to have a statewide financial connection"

That's what the head of a manufacturing concern said to the members of his organization recently.

THE business was beginning to assume extensive proportions. Branch offices were being established in various sections of California. A connection was made with the Bank of Italy which afforded the privileges and advantages offered by a metropolitan financial institution with offices in 65 cities of the state. The "Out of town" business was aided and speeded up through the statewide facilities of a strong, influential bank, and the relationship has proved valuable in many other ways.

WE HAVE IN PREVIOUS ISSUES OF THE TIMES-GAZETTE PLAINED THE MEANING OF THE WORD, "REALTOR." We ever to go further into the explanation. It is not enough to sell a vacant lot. We want to assist the public in the improvement of the ground and in the financial end of the construction of a building. Then when the time comes to dispose of the property, the "REALTOR" can assist to sell at a profit. The "REALTOR" is a servant of the public. NEWS OF MENLO PARK

The local Parent-Teacher Association held an important meeting last Friday afternoon in the auditorium of the school building. Mrs. J. J. Garland presided. This was the first meeting after vacation and much business was transacted. A nice program was rendered.

The first number was a song by Mrs. H. H. Barre, accompanied by Mrs. J. A. Morris. This was followed by a duet by Mrs. George Angus, Jr. and Mrs. Morris, after which came the program subject "Child Training in the Home and in the School."

Mr. Garland talked on the advantage of teaching good habits in the child at an early age, explaining how much easier it is to start to teach good habits at the start than to break them of bad ones later on. Then the first grade teacher, Miss O'Connell, spoke on the subject from the teacher's point of view, pointing out how the child is handicapped in the beginning of his school life if he had no good training in cleanliness and thoughtfulness before entering upon the community life of the school.

After this came a talk from Miss Abbott who stated that she had practically grown up with the parent-teacher association, as she was one of the original members of the San Mateo County Association, and was therefore intensely interested in all the doings of the Parent-Teacher Association. Finally a round table discussion was held, the following questions being considered briefly:

"When, if ever, is it right to spank a child?" "What do you think of the common habit of telling a child the black man or policeman will get you?" "Should a wife back up her husband in disciplining her children?" "Is it ever just to break a promise to a child?"

It was announced that federation dues had been reduced from 20 cents to 10 cents per member. A motion was passed that refreshments should not be served at every meeting as heretofore but only on special occasions as the club should designate. It was decided to hold a food sale in the near future and a committee was appointed to meet and arrange details. The November meeting is to be held in the evening and the fathers are invited.

Miss Mota Kugel announced that a donation of 50 books to the library had been made by Mrs. R. S. Reed of Atherton. The committee having charge of the proposed school orchestra reported progress.

The last will and testament of John Peter Nielsen, deceased, has been filed for probate by James T. O'Keefe, attorney for the executor, Mrs. Henrietta Nielsen. The document was drafted by the law firm of Kirkbride & Gordon of San Mateo. The estate is valued at about $10,000 and consists of the home here and cash in the bank. Most of the property owned by the deceased stood in the name of his wife.

The beautiful E. C. Williams home in Menlo Oaks has been sold to a San Francisco party who will occupy it the first of October. The estate is the finest in that section. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will remove to the city, but expect to soon return to this locality to reside. They like it so much here that they would feel lost in living in any other place.

F. R. Lane, former agent for the San Francisco papers, has bought a piece of land in North Palo Alto, where he is to erect a home and launch into the peaceful occupation of raising berries and chickens and to enjoy his days under his own vine and fig tree.

William Carnduff, the Ravenswood capitalist and politician, entertained about fifty of his friends at his home last Sunday. The feature of the occasion was a barbecue of deer meat secured in three counties of the state, to-wit: El Dorado, Stanislaus and San Mateo. The venison from San Mateo county proved to be the tenderest and juiciest, no doubt, owing to the even temperature and choice mountain pasture for which this county is noted.

John Sauer of Modesto has leased the O'Neil place on Oak Grove avenue. He is connected with the Menlo Golf Club.

Timothy Hopkins returned during the week from a hunting trip in northern California. He is an expert hunter and knows the forests of the state like a book. Mr. Hopkins brought home two deer as trophies of the chase.

The plumbing shop of K. L. Martin was broken into last Saturday night and ransacked. Some small tools and a dollar in change were removed by the culprits. They left no clue as to their identity.

The attractive Caldwell home at Atherton was sold this week to Mrs. Williams, a sister of Mrs. McCormack whose husband is the lumber magnate of Atherton. The estate was formerly the property of Mr. Crowell, the San Francisco tailor.

S. C. Reader, late of Chicago, has bought a home on Maple avenue, at Santa Cruz avenue. Mr. Reader is engaged in the electric repairing business in Menlo Park and is to make his permanent home here with his charming wife, who is a sister of Mrs. Slinger.

For the first time water was run through the Hetch Hetchy pipes last Saturday, the stream going to the Crystal Springs lake. The Hetch Hetchy bridge is about complete that carries the pipe line. This has been a big undertaking, costing vast sums of money and much hard work. The people of the city are deserving of praise and congratulations for the support they gave the project which is one of the big feats of the country. The Dunbar bridge close by is progressing rapidly and nearing completion. The cement floors are being laid and the steel work put in. The bridge will be finished long before the approaches to it are ready for use, this delay being caused by litigation on the other side of the bay resulting from condemnation suits over the land of A. Schilling.

Fire of unknown origin Saturday night destroyed the small building adjoining the residences of Mr. and Mrs. C. Reed, in North Palo Alto, and used by Mr. Steele as a studio and laboratory. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Both Menlo Park fire departments were called out, but inadequate water supply made it impossible for them to save the building.

The big flight of ducks from the north to the local marshes is an indication of an early winter, so the old timers say. In the days of the Indians this was always taken as a sure sign of approaching winter and the Indians began to provide their winter supplies accordingly.

Mrs. Susan Chandler and her pretty daughter, Mrs. Maylon Hegner, left during the week for their former home in Los Angeles for an indefinite stay. Their apartments here are for rent.

Mrs. S. D. Natall, the realty broker, sold an acre of land in the Menlo Oaks this week. She also sold two parcels of property on the highway. Mrs. DeNatall says she finds business brisk in Menlo realty.

John Pennington, formerly of Menlo Park but for the past six months enjoying a tour of the state, returned with his family this week to permanently reside here. He has bought a dwelling from Slinger and will settle down to the even tenor of his way in the best place in California.

The National Council of Catholic Women will hold a card party in the Duff and Doyle hall on Wednesday evening, September 20. Twenty valuable prizes will be given to the contestants of the game. A big attendance is expected for the evening.

A prominent physician was here during the week seeking a location. The climate is so good here that it is likely a doctor would starve if he had to depend upon the sickness of the inhabitants. In Menlo Park the people live to a ripe old age and then dry up and blow away, unlike the residents of Los Angeles who blow away and never dry up.

The cloudy weather of the past week is playing havoc with the tomato crop. The fruit is not ripening and the canneries are waiting for shipments that do not come. Unless the warm sun shine comes the farmers are likely to meet with big losses as frost is liable to come within a few weeks and then the crop would be destroyed. The woes of the farmer are many. Such, however, is the travail of life.

As an evidence of how this section is growing it might be mentioned that Las Lomas school has 105 pupils this term without room for their comfort. An addition was put on to the school building last year and another has to be made right away to accommodate the increasing attendance.

Little Robert Perry was run over by a "run and get away party" late Wednesday evening, near the home of his parents to the rear of the Southern Pacific Company's depot. The boy was brought into his home by a passerby, and the little fellow remained unconscious for several hours. Mr. Perry will give anyone the sum of $25 giving information leading to the arrest of the guilty party.

Mrs. Marshall Madison gave an informal luncheon Tuesday at Menlo Park, where she and Mr. Madison and their children have been passing the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Eyre.

The Men's Club of Trinity Episcopal Church, Menlo Park, will give a dance at the Parish House this evening.

ST. PATRICK'S STUDENTS IN NARROW ESCAPE

Four students from the St. Patrick Seminary narrowly escaped serious injury when the car in which they were riding was wrecked by a truck at the Baden crossing. The four students were thrown from their car and were badly shaken up, but not injured. Tony Gogna of San Francisco, driver of the truck, was slightly injured, but refused to go to the hospital. Both cars were badly wrecked.

Deputy Sheriff C. A. Callaghan of this city was passing at the time of the accident and took the four young men back to the seminary. Their car was so badly damaged that it had to be towed into a garage.

Joseph Graf of San Francisco took possession of the Chubbuck home, 151 Elwood street, yesterday which they bought recently. A. M. Dofnell negotiated the sale. Mrs. Graf is a noted singer who has thrived large San Francisco audiences.

ALMA RUBENS HERE SOON IN NEW DRAMA

Alma Rubens has one of the most intensely dramatic roles of her screen career in "Fine Clothes," the first National picturization of Franz Molnar's stage success, "Fashions for Men," which comes to the Sequoia Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 23 and 24.

Miss Rubens, whose past performances in "Humoresque," "Enemies of Women," "The World and His Wife," and others have already established her as a film favorite, appears as a pretty bookkeeper in a London shop whose craving for fine clothes leads her into a conspiracy with an English Earl against her employer.

It is a role said to provide her with a wide scope for highly emotional acting, and pre-view critics have pronounced it the best that she has done.

Lewis S. Stone has the role of the Earl and Percy Marmont is seen as the shopkeeper. Others in the cast include Eileen Percy, Raymond Griffith and William V. Mong.

Miss Rubens has been in motion pictures since 1916, when she made her debut with Douglas Fairbanks in "The Half Breed." She later joined the Triangle stock company, when it was controlled by the late Thomas H. Ince, but quit this to do Red Cross work during the war.

At the close of the war she joined Cosmopolitan productions, where she established herself as one of the screen's best actresses. Aside from the pictures above named, she appeared in "Cynthia," "Gerald Craston's Lady," "The Dancers" and others.

Coincidentally, "Fine Clothes" was filmed on the old Triangle lot where Miss Rubens achieved her first successes.

This is a John M. Stahl production for Louis B. Mayer.

DICK IS SAILOR ON MODEL BATTLESHIP

One of Uncle Sam's model battleships plays a leading role in "Shore Leave," Richard Barthelmess' newest First National production which comes to the Sequoia Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 21 and 22. The warship is the Arkansas, pride of the United States Navy.

"Shore Leave," is the comedy romance of a "gob" and the United States government officer Barthelmess plays a happy-go-lucky sailor, "Bilge" Smith in "Shore Leave." He is surrounded by an excellent cast, headed by Dorothy Bonnell, Fay Mackall, Ned Long, Marie Shotwell and Arthur Metcalfe.

"Shore Leave" is directed by John S. Robertson, who made all of Barthelmess' recent productions.

As a result of the present expansion of Redwood City in the vicinity of Winslow street and the State Highway, which has resulted in an additional number of telephone customers, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company has just completed work here costing over fifty thousand dollars.

In order to provide for the present development and future development as anticipated by the engineers of the company, six hundred and six pair underground cable has been placed from Winslow and East Marshall street to Roger street and the State Highway. East of the central office the underground cable has been placed from Main and Phelps streets along the State Highway. In order to properly distribute these new facilities nearly fifty-five thousand feet of aerial cable has been placed along Whipple, Brewster, Jefferson, Roosevelt, Adams, Oak and Phelps avenues.
